Art Unit: 1654

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-9, 15-16, 19-61, drawn to a peptide of the Sequence (I), classified in class 514, subclass 2.
- II. Claim 10, drawn to a method of using synthetic means of preparing the peptide, classified in class 530, subclass 344.
- III. Claims 11-14, drawn to recombinant means of preparing a peptide, classified in class 435, subclass 69.1.
- IV. Claim 17, drawn to method of covering a biomaterial, classified in class 514, subclass 2+.
- V. Claim 17, drawn to method for producing a filter for trapping activated blood cells, classified in class 514, subclass 2+.

The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The MPEP states an independent claim does not avoid the prior art, then the question whether there is still an inventive link between all the claims dependent on that claim needs to be carefully considered. If there is no link remaining, an objection of lack of unity a posteriori (that is, arising only after assessment of the prior art) may be raised. Similar considerations apply in the case of a genus/species or combination/subcombination situation. See MPEP 1850. Here, the base claim 1 is not free of the prior art since Montaville et al. teach peptides that meet the limitation of the claims.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

For Group I, the group contains numerous species of

- a) peptide of claims 1-9,
- b) peptides in combination with other peptides in claims 15-16,
- c) labeled peptides and peptides in claims 19-26
- d) combination with filters in claim 35.

If Applicants with the peptides to be examined then Applicant should elect as single disclose peptide species corresponding to peptide sequence I. This species should define all of the variables of J, U and Z. If applicants wish to have a labeled peptide examined, the Applicants should elect a peptide with a specific label. If applicants wish examination on the peptide-peptide complex, the Applicant should elect a single disclosed species for this peptide-peptide complex.

NOTE THAT AN ELECTION TO THE PEPTIDE ONLY WILL RESULT IN EXAMINATION OF THE PEPTIDE ONLY AND NOT LABELED PEPTIDE AND VICE VERA. IF APPLICANTS ELECT ONLY THE PEPTIDE, THEN ONLY CLAIMS 1-9 AND THE LIKE WILL BE EXAMINED ON THE MERITS.

The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, 1-61 generic.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1654

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
